

UNIT VIII/LESSON 73

Using WE and US

guide > 26

Use we as the subject of a sentence. Use us after words of action, such as give, see, and tell, and after such words as to, for, with, and from.

In these sentences supply the appropriate form, we or us.

A Year without Rain

1. _____ three look up at the sky.
2. The clear blue sky does not please _____ Kansans.
3. _____ three see no sign of rain.
4. All the land around _____ engineers is brown and thirsty.
5. This summer _____ Kansans are suffering through a drought.
6. _____ engineers see field after field of dying crops.
7. None of _____ Kansans can enjoy these sunny days.
8. _____ Kansans usually grow large amounts of wheat.
9. Some of _____ Kansans grew up during the 1930s.
10. Because of that fact, _____ older folk know all about dust storms.
11. Bone-dry soil is nothing new to _____ older folk.
12. _____ Kansans are afraid of the wind, for good reason.
13. All of _____ engineers know how wind blows dusty soil away.
14. One person showed _____ engineers a sad sight.
15. _____ three saw how the wind had harmed the young wheat.
16. People in cities and suburbs depend on _____ farming people.
17. Usually _____ Kansans supply tons of wheat for bread.
18. But this is a hard year for _____ Kansans.
19. Soon _____ engineers must finish our study and write a report.
20. A report from _____ engineers will give a gloomy picture.
21. _____ three hope the rains come and wash away all our notes.